
Our company

In 1955, our founding father Jean-Pierre Marcel started to craft fishing boat. Since this year, we have become a great company, example of the french excellence.

Boateau offers its french made boat range, designed with the sustainable development's respect.

We guarantee an outstanding quality for our products because customers' satisfaction is our priority.

« More than a boat,
a Boateau. »

Our commitments

Sustainable development is one of our main approaches for the future.

Our products are made with french renewable wood and with locally made plastic, because it is important for us to develop our close environment and limit our environmental impact.

Our all robotised production areas allow a great wellbeing for our employees and guarantee irreproachable boats.

We also assure our boats' end of life, thanks to the wreck's recycling.
